

Actress and performer Barbara Chichiarelli (Rome) enrolled in the Faculty of Performing Arts before studying acting at the Accademia Silvio D'Amico, graduating in 2013. Her theater studies, in particular, would provide her the opportunity to perform onstage for directors Antonio Gabriele Lavia and Piero Maccarinelli. In 2017 she won acclaim for her performance in the role of the ruthless Livia Adami in the film Suburra, Italy's first Netflix production. In 2019, she will be appearing on Sky Atlantic in 1994, the last chapter of the trilogy that started with 1992 and continued with 1993; on Raiuno in La compagnia del cigno by Ivan Cotroneo; and in the hotly awaited Suburra 2 on Netflix. The musical Un'avventura directed by Marco Danieli, currently in production, marks her screen acting debut.
