Adriano Giannini got a very early start in film working as an assistant cameraman. From 1989 to 1999 he worked on over forty films. Since 1999 he's crossed in front of the camera and acted in numerous films, as well as dubbing the voices of many international stars, In 2008 he founded Ombla Productions. The following year he directed his first short film, Il gioco, which premiered at the Venice Film Festival and won a Silver Ribbon as well. Sarà per un'altra volta is the second film he has both written and directed.

2015 Sarà per un'altra volta [short]
2009 Il gioco [short]